

About Us

Cisternas Agudo is a company with a long history dedicated to the manufacture, assembly and distribution of tanker trailers for both slurry and water; also coupled on truck chassis and hook.

With more than 40 years of innovation and experience, Cisternas Agudo is synonymous with quality and customer service. The joint effort and teamwork of all of us who make up Cisternas Agudo has allowed us to position ourselves as one of the national benchmarks in the design, development and manufacture of tanks for the agricultural and industrial field.

For this we have a great team of professionals in constant evolution that allows us to give the best of services. We have a wide range of top quality products and brands, leaders in their respective markets, placing ourselves at the forefront in the manufacture of tanks for all possible uses: agricultural sector (tanks and slurry applicators); industrial sector (vehicles and tanks for urban, industrial and sewerage cleaning); construction sector (trucks and tank vehicles for irrigation and compaction, special executions in mines, etc.); fuel sector (tanks for the transport and distribution of all types of fuels and fuels, ADR standard approval).
